UCO is home to the largest forensic science education program in the United States. It is the only university in North America with three accredited undergraduate forensic science programs and the only institution in Oklahoma with undergraduate accreditation by the Forensic Science Education Programs Accreditation Commission.

University Highlights

UCO offers quality education through low-cost tuition, open and friendly professors, and small class sizes. UCO has even ranked in the top 10 nationally on The Wall Street Journal's "Top Schools for Engagement."

Our programs are nationally accredited including the Business program which is AACSB accredited—making it one of the most elite schools for business, the Engineering program which is ABET accredited, and the Nursing program—the top nursing program in the state—which is accredited at the national and state level by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education and the Oklahoma State Board of Nursing.

Interesting Facts

Downtown Oklahoma City is a 30 minute drive away and hosts bustling night life, dining, attractions, and events. It is also home to the National Cowboy & Western Heritage Museum.

UCO is as an official Paralympic and Olympic Training Site for the United States Olympic Committee.

UCO is also home to the Endeavor Games which is the nation's largest multi-sport, multi-disability event bringing in more than 330 athletes from 40 states, Puerto Rico, and Canada.

Things to Do

Visit Oklahoma City's NBA professional basketball team, the Oklahoma City Thunder, for their games in the heart of downtown.

Visit downtown Oklahoma City's Bricktown Entertainment District. It is popular for entertainment, dining, and nightlife. The District includes a canal with water taxis, movie theatre, bars and dining areas, and more.

Visit one of Oklahoma's Native American tribes which hold cultural events that exhibit their history. These gatherings include traditional food, dances, and singing.
